

Volume 60

2025 Editorial Calendar

Note: The editorial calendar is subject to change without notice. Space reservations are required. Space is limited with placement only guaranteed to paid advertisements. Information about advertising is available at www.vml.org or contact Rob Bullington, rbullington@vml.org.

January/February - Talking Tappahannock

How is this small town doing such big things? VTC travelled to Tappahannock to talk with lifetime resident Mayor Roy Gladding and relative newcomer Town Manager Eric Pollitt to find out how the community is honoring its past while building for the future.

March/April - Celebrating Women's History Month / 2025 General Assembly Wrap-Up

The National Women's History Alliance's 2025 theme for Women's History Month is "Moving Forward Together! Women Educating & Inspiring Generations." We take this opportunity to highlight some women in Virginia's local governments doing just that. Also – a lot of things happened during the 2025 General Assembly Session. Our policy team highlights legislation and budget items of importance to localities.

May/June - The Education Issue: VML "If I Were Mayor" Essay Contest Winners

It's time again to celebrate the 7th and 8th graders who rose to the challenge and bested the competition to become this year's "If I Were Mayor" Essay Contest winners!

July/August - The Virginia You Love: From the Mountains to the Bay

For our annual outdoors issue, we consider the condition of two natural wonders that literally help to define Virginia: The Blue Ridge Mountains and the Chesapeake Bay.

September/October - Pre-Conference Issue: Destination Roanoke!

The yearly gathering of VML members for learning, networking, and business will take place at the amazing Hotel Roanoke in the heart of the Star City. In this issue we look forward to everything that will be available October 12-14 at the VML Annual Conference.

November/December - Meet our New President

We don't have a red carpet, but we do know how to make our new President feel welcome with a feature celebrating their accomplishments and the great things happening in their locality.

BETTER COMMUNITIES THROUGH
SOUND GOVERNMENT