

2023 Editorial Calendar

Note: The editorial calendar is subject to change without notice. Space reservations are required. Space is limited with placement only guaranteed to paid advertisements. Information about advertising is available at www.vml.org or contact Rob Bullington, rbullington@vml.org.

Jan/Feb - Public Safety

It's the most important thing a local government can provide its community, so we kick off 2023 with a closer look.

March - The Council/Manager Relationship

When it works, it makes all the difference! We gather some recipes for this special sauce from leading local government chefs.

April - 2023 General Assembly Wrap-Up

It was a "short" session and things moved quickly. So, uh, what happened? VML's policy team and some General Assembly watchers help us understand.

May - Education

Our annual celebration of the 7th grade winners of our "If I Were Mayor" essay contest plus a deep dive into a timely topic in the realm of education.

June - All About Charters

We take an issue to explore the documents that make localities, well, localities! We'll also take a look at the results of the Charter Study and offer a budget primer for local governments.

July/Aug - Big Outdoors and Recreation Issue

There's no shortage of great places to be outside in Virginia so we never run out of things to feature as nominated by our readers in the annual "Virginia You Love" survey picks.

September - Pre-Conference

We're going to Norfolk this year and it's going to be great! Find out why in this issue.

October/November - Post-Conference and a Hot Topic

We told you the conference was going to be great, and now we've got the photos to prove it! Plus, a topic du jour of our choosing.

December - Meet Our New President

It's December again and time to tell you all about our new President.

BETTER COMMUNITIES THROUGH
SOUND GOVERNMENT